THE Lady-Help Knife Cleaner
Will be found really cheaper than lower priced articles, as to all intents and purposes it is indestructible, and requires no parts to be renewed from time to time. Very little powder is used; its cleanliness, thorough practicability, the beauty of polish it imparts, and the impossibility to injure cutlery cleaned in it, invariably make it popular wherever it becomes known.
Any one can easily and continuously clean Four Knives per Minute in it.

El Sabado 5 de Marzo
A las 2 p.m.
Remataremos a la mas alta postura y sin limites de ninguna clase, los nombrados campos, conocidos por el Venado Tuerto, situados sobre la frontera de Buenos Aires y Santa Fe, distando nada mas que 60 leguas de la Capital 15 leguas de Rojas, 6 de la Teodelina (de Alvear), 15 del Pergamino y 20 del Rosario.
Dista de las Estancias de los Sres. Gahan, Casey, Brown, Ham, Morgan y otros como 5 a 7 leguas.
Dichas estancias han costado casi todas de $360,000, a $500,000 la legua, y se garante que sus pastos no son mejores que los campos que se venden.
El ramal del Ferro Carril del Oeste que va al Pergamino y estara concluido en 15 meses cuando mas, pondra estos campos a un dia de viaje de Buenos Aires.
Estos campos son verdaderamente esplendidos y han sido visitados hace muy poco tiempo por un numero de hacendados y personas inteligentes que los reputan de primera calidad.
Hay muchas personas que creen que los campos virgenes o de pastos fuerte son de la misma calidad; es un gran error que ha costado mucho dinero a algunos pobladores.
Los campos al Sur de Venado Tuerto que lo forman los partidos de Lincoln, 9 de Julio, etc, son mas o menos arenosos llenos de medanos y nunca seran campos de primera calidad. Los al Norte no son arenosos pero en campio muy duros y casi imposible de refinar, mientras que los campos que ofrecen en venta son de tierra negra, pastos inmejorables con grandes cañadones, hermosas lagunas y lomadas, seis medanos.
Son campos que admiten 2000 vacas y dos majadas de ovejas por cada legua cuadrada y no son unicamente para cria de vacas, sino tambien para engorde.
Como tenemos orden terminante de vender todo el campo sin reserva alguna y siendo muy probable que por ser una area tan grande no se consiga la mitad del valor de estos campos, queremos llamar muy especialmente la atencion de los senores hacendados sobre su importancia.
Podemos asegurar desde ya, que la mayor parte de los compradores seran estancieros irlandeses y es sabido de todos que donde van esos peoneers de la ganaderia, los campos pronto dublican su valor,
Prueba de ello son los campos del Norte y Oeste de esta provincia, donde han pagado de 1½ a 2 millones por legua y todo el mundo decia que eran locuras; mientras tanto quienes son los hombres de fortuna en el pais?
Tenemos la firme conviccion que una vez que esten poblados estos campos y una parte alambrados, que lo sera antes de seis meses, no se podra comprar alli una legua por menos de 400,000 m/c.
Las condiciones de la venta son:
60,000 al contado y el resto a 1, 2 y 3 anos de plazo con interes del Banco de la Provincia o con diez por ciento de descuento haciendo el pago al contado.
Se vendera en lotes de una legua con opcion a mas, al gusto de los compradores.
Los planos estaran a disposicion de los interesados, desde el 12 del corriente en nuestra casa Alsina no. 78.
NOTA IMPORTANTE—La venta se efectuara aqui en nuestra casa Alsina 78, despues de un espledido lunch que ofrecemos a nuestros favorecedores y al efecto deberan munirse de la correspondiente tarjeta de admision, sin la cual no podra tener acceso al local del remate. Siendo limitado el numero de tarjetas [100] pedimos ocurran con tiempo por ellas.

Me es grato comunicar a Vds el resultado satisfactorio del nuevo examen quimico del 'Fluido Little' que acabo de practicar sobre una muestra de este especifico enviada por Vds a este laboratorio el 12 del corr. y fabricado por Morris Little e Hijo en Inglaterra.
Confrontando el analisis de esta muestra con mi analisis del mismo especifico practicado en Febrero de 1879 encuentro un aumento considerable en su grado de concentracion; su densidad es superior, la proporcion de fenoles contenidos en los aceites es mayor, y en una palabra lo considero no solo superior al producto primitivo, sino el mas concentrado y activo de cuantos de su clase he tenido ocasion de examinar hasta la fecha. Esta observacion se refiere, se entiende, esclusivamente a los especificos contra la sarna, que tienen por base los accites Hidro carburados y fenoles del alquitran y que no deben su eficacia al arsenico, al azufre, o al tabaco, sustancias que no existen en el 'Fluido Little.' Apesar de su mayor concentracion el Fluido se mezcla con el agua fria con la misma facilidad y perfeccion como antes.
Me repito de Vds

Alcock's Porous Plasters.
Calle San Jose 755, Buenos Ayres, 4th Feb. 1881.
J. A. Bonnet, Esq.,
195 Florida,
Dear Sir,
I have great pleasure in testifying to the efficacy of Allcock's Porous Plasters.
In 1876 I was attacked by Acute Rheumatism in this city, for which the three Doctors who attended me could do absolutely nothing.
After being in bed for 9 months, unable to move any of my limbs, I was advised by a friend to try Allcock's Porous Plasters. I did so, and in 16 days I was compistely cured, returning to my work on the City of B.A. Improvements for Mr J C Simpson.
This fact is known to hundreds of persons here. You are at perfect liberty to publish this, and I trust it will induce others similarly afflicted to try them; they are certain to be benefited by them.
I remain,
Very truly yours,
W. MURPHY.

HAVAS' AGENCY

Berlin 15th.

Reichstag opened to day. Speech from Throne refers to good foreign relations, and says the good offices of the Powers will prevent a rupture between Greece and Turkey. The rest of the Speech is solely about home affairs and of no European importance.

THE NEW BOULEVARD.

Minister Irigoyen's note to the Government of Buenos Aires, which we give at foot, will be read with pleasure by all who hope to see this city in some sense improved. The proposed boulevard would give a completely changed appearance not only to the suburbs through which it would pass but to the city in general, and thousands of the working people in the town would, by means of this boulevard, be enabled to take healthful and recreative exercise through a district the most picturesque, yet to the present the most shut up along the hills of the 'Polvora' and the slopes to the Riachuelo. The public spirit of one or two of the foreign proprietors has been evidenced by their letters published in the papers, making a free gift of whatever land the boulevard requires running through their property; but we have not seen that any of the Argentine property holders along the route have been so generous; surely it is not possible that only foreigners have public spirit in such matters?

The new boulevard runs through lands of Argentines who have figured much in political, professional and social life, men upon whom the mantle of representation was supposed to well fit. Yet we cannot regard a man as either very spirited or very representative who denies to his half smothered—up fellow—citizens a few varas of land through a maize field or an alfalfar. The boulevard can be set about and opened in a few months if the owners of property through which the road will run come forward and follow the example set by Dr Lausen and Mr Carman. In spite, of course, of every opposition, the road, by means of an expropriative law can be made, but expropriation means delay, and, for so useful, so necessary and so praiseworthy a public measure, should never be needed or invoked.

In our newspaper literature of late we have had very long articles on the birthright of foreigners and their Argentine naturalization, a subject, psrhaps, too abstruse for most of our public writers, as, with the exception of an article tinged with light classic lore, from the pen of ex-President Avellaneda, we saw nothing much to the point. Incidents the most trivial frequently arise that show us things in a newer and better light than even the most profound study. This little affair of the Boulevard is not without its moral. The Boulevard at Caballito bears strongly on the naturalization question, since the unnaturalized take precedence of the citizen, and a drop of alien blood shows a public spirit which our skies, our climate, or other influences, either enervate or totally extinguish. If foreigners are to lose one iota of that public spirit which in all countries, save this, is so genrrally prominent, then we have to seek, in the counter-vailing advantages of citizenship, some great trait to outweigh the loss. Yet even in this simple Boulevard question we have the most incisive proof of the truth of our remark that we must elevate the Argentine, not the 'gringo,' to make naturalization laws work better. To beautify our city, to adorn the capital of the Republic, to supply to our overworked population a splendid outlet, a high road to health, exercise and respiration, Dr. Lausen, a Dane, and Mr. Carman, the son of an American, are the only property-holders that come forward to give their land, whilst Argentines who hold property along the route, have not as yet thought proper to offer a square vara of a forlorn 'potrero' or potatoe field for so necessary and so useful a work. The subject is one which calls for remark, and we leave it to our colleagues, secure that they will discover the great influences which rob Argentines of public spirit and leave to the foreigner the right to take precedence in such matters:—

Buenos Aires, Feb. 11, 1881.

To H.E. tht Governor of the Province of Buenos Aires.

The Municipal Board of the Capital has forwarded the note and antecedents appended, which I have the honour to forward to Y.E., referring to a rectification of the Municipal limits of the Capital, and unanimously approved by the members of the board on the 10th ult.

The President of the Republic thinks that the matter involves no compromise, and consults the interest of the Capital and the Province. The proposed circumvallation road from the Riachuelo of Barracas to the Maldonado Arroyo suppresses many difficulties and facilitates the action of both Governments and of the police, &c. The properties alongside would rise in value, and the neighbours would depend on an easier communication with the capital.

With the exception of the five squares on each side of the Calle Rivadavia, the road will run through large properties, thus occasioning no loss to the proprietors, who will reap the benefit of the improved value of their land; besides, more people would be attracted to that quarter and settle on the new road.

The preceding considerations, including the necessity of giving the capital fixed limits, not merely as a question of embellishment, but as a measure of foresight, have induced the President of the Republic to forward you the project of the Municipality, that, should you deem it advisable, same may be submitted to the Legislature of the Province. Although only a question of detail, it is a complementary measure to the great and patriotic act carried out by that honourable body.

I take this opportunity, &c.

Bernardo de Irigoyen.

AN APPEAL.

We received by the mail the following remarkable appeal to the people of England on behalf of the Dutch Boers of the Transvaal. The petition has attached to it 5100 signatures, whose names, we are free to say, represent the intellect of Europe. We regret that it is utterly beyond our power to publish the lists, but we hold them in our office for inspection, which we invite.

Perhaps there is nothing in our times that more addresses our better feelings than this unlooked-for struggle between a handful of Dutch sheepfarmers, who stand up for their liberties, and the power of the greatest and the freest nation on the earth. No reasoning, no prejudice, no narrow-mindedness can bring to the same level the Transvaal and the Irish questions. In the one we have a people different in language, blood, ties and clime, asserting rights which few will dispute and many will support. In the other, the case of Ireland, we have the same people disunited by the exigency of a poverty that can hardly be depicted, and the corroding influence of accumulated wealth that positively defies exaggeration. The British statesman is called to legislate for both. The task is a severe one; for, whilst with regard to Ireland he must legislate against the rich to extricate the poor, in the Transvaal he must legislate for the well-to-do and wealthy, the helots who under a burning sun have turned the desert plains of the blackest country on the civilized globe into smiling homesteads and peaceful sheepfarms.

The cause of Ireland, notwithstanding the great prejudices of class and opinion, was never safer than at present, and to those who study deeply the question, it must be obvious that a beneficent reform in the tenure of lands, protecting the poor tenant whilst respecting the rights of property, is at hand. Englishmen may indeed bless an agitation which has given to the world the greatest proof of the immaculate liberty of British Institutions. We have it by telegram that all the power of the Crown, all the influence of wealth and passion and prejudice, were unable to obtain a verdict against Mr Parnell and his associates. In no other country under the sun, save in free and enlightened Great Britain and Ireland, could such a thing occur. Even in the United States, in France, in Germany, Belgium, Switzerland where e'er we turn, nay, even here in the free and enlightened and Republican La Plata, any man who played the role of Parnell would have perished, but in England he is safe. We bow with awe, with affection, with reverence, before so splendid an example of unconquered free institutions; it surpasses everything we have read in history, and teaches us all that, spite of everything, our native land is the only spot on earth where Institutions are superior to prejudice.

The appeal before us was written and signed by all these distinguished men in Europe in simple homage to that fact, in the belief and in the conviction that their uplifted voices on behalf of those struggling Boers would do more for their cause than phalanxed Remingtons or parks of Krupp guns. The subject is one appealing to our better feelings, and if we naturally deplore that troubles at home and abroad are accumulating at the moment, we never flinch from our trust that right, justice and equity will prevail, and that the tenants in Ireland and the sheepfarmers of Transvaal will in the end obtain redress for their wrongs and the fullest protection of their rights:—

To the People of England.

It is with deep interest that we, the undersigned Dutch citizens, have followed the course of recent events concerning the people of the Transvaal, who are by descent of our own flesh and blood, and we may not suppress the feeling of amazement and regret which came upon us when the late Government of England resolved to deprive the people of the Transvaal of their national independence and to incorporate their community with the British Crown.

It would be futile here to dwell upon the nature of our amazement and regret in this matter. Already many of yourselves—notably your present Prime Minister, Mr Gladstone—have issued their energetic protest against the Transvaal-annexation as an act both unjust and impolitic. Yet did the people of the Transvaal cherish the hope—assuredly not quite unreasonably—that the wrong inflicted upon them would be ultimately redressed. But now that all the expectations of these people have been baffled, their patience at last has given way, and in despair they have taken up arms.

Much as we may deplore this fact in itself, we are not at a loss to account for it. For are not their forefathers ours? Are they not of the men who struggled through eighty weary years for the maintenance of their national independence? And should the spirit of their fathers have become extinguished in them? No, Britons, You, who are a free people yourselves, cannot but sympathise with a community, however comparatively insignificant, which your own powerful Government may indeed scatter, nay even exterminate, but which will never suffer itself to be entirely subdued.

It is on these considerations that we venture to issue our appeal direct to the sentiment of British fairness. The people of England will not submit to the dishonour which must inevitably follow a conflict both unequal and iniquitous with one of the weakest communities, strife with a people that demand nothing more than to live in peace and quiet under laws of their own framing, whilst tilling the soil which is theirs, acquired under peril and by care.

We yet entertain the hope that this our appeal will not be entirely disregarded. We are still inclined to believe that the mighty voice of public opinion will lend such support to the present Government of England as will enable her Majesty's Ministers to undo an act of illiberality which a Cabinet of known Liberal sentiments would never have approved or carried out.

FARMING IN AMERICA.

The following public speech by Mr Cubitt, special Commissioner of the Canadian Government, to report on farming in the Dominion and Manitoba, will be read with much interest here. It is pretty evident that there is only one place in the world where the poor emigrant has really a good chance of success, and that is the River Plate:—

Mr Cubitt said that having lately had the honour of being sent by the Canadian Government as a delegate to report on the farming of Canada and Manitoba, he would like to make a few remarks on the subject (cheers). He found that the farming of Canada was in a miserable state. He thought they were altogether the worst farmers he ever saw, not only in regard to the cleanliness of the land, but the cropping—taking out and not putting in (Hear, hear). The early pioneers who went fifty or sixty years ago, and commenced without a shilling, did undoubtedly make money; but the sequel had to be told. They killed the land (Hear, hear). They had gone on farming for thirty or forty years on the robbing system—constantly cropping and tilling, never manuring (Hear, hear). He and other delegates were sent out to give, if possible, a favourable report of the country to induce emigrants to go out and cultivate the land; and the great desire of the Canadian Government was that men of capital should go out. He found that all over Canada there were land societies, and that the gentlemen most anxious to get English farmers to come out were the presidents of those land societies (laughter). It had been said that land in Canada had advanced; but on the contrary, land in Canada, which, if properly farmed, could bear an important part in the production of meat, was now selling at £10 and £15 an acre. That land would be as good as any in England, if properly cropped and drained, but the fact was that in many instances the straw was thought nothing of—it was messed away and destroyed. Instead of laying down the best lands to grass, they were eager to crop all they could—that was in the eastern part. When they got beyond Toronto, they found that a few men had commenced to breed stock, and they were, he believed, successful. He found some good cattle, and he was surprised Mr Read did not mention his journey through Canada, a country which, owing to its extent, was likely to play an important part. Nearly all the land of Canada would grow roots; it was not stony land like ours, and he never saw any land there that two horses could not plough. He saw a great deal of water standing on the lands, but he believed if those lands were well drained, and more cattle kept, they would give as good a yield as English farms; but the fact was, they were short of capital in every way. Then in regard to the position of the farmers, they were certainly the hardest working men he ever saw. He visited several sons of clergymen and others, and he found they had no grooms, no hunting, and every man had to look after his own horse. The Canadian farmer had also to keep his workmen under cover, and if they were not allowed to sit down at his own table they soon left him. In regard to his visit to Manitoba he was sorry after the handsome manner in which he was treated by the Canadian Government to say anything harsh: but all he had to say was, let those go who wish (laughter,) He certainly went at an unfavourable season. Did they ever try to eat Manitoba beef? (laughter) It was not worth as much by 2d. or 2½d per lb. as English beef. He tried to eat it, but could not. He believed the best of their cattle came to England; what they left behind were wretched (laughter). On board the ship coming home they had horrible mutton; it was worse than the beef (laughter). Manitoba would some day be a good country, but until it was drained, and till railways were constructed, he could not conscientiously recommend men to go there (cheers). Neither America nor Canada was a country for a man to go to without capital. They were told in pamphlets and by agents that a man could farm with a capital of £150 or £160; that, however, was great humbug (Hear, hear). He believed that with a capital of about £2,000 a man really might make money out there if he went in for feeding or rearing. So hot was the speculation out in Canada, that men were buying and selling useless undrained prairie land without seeing it, and some members of the Canadian Parliament even had thousands of acres which they did not know what to do with; he would not give them a penny for it (laughter). In this country, if there were a proper adjustment of rents and rates, the farmers would have nothing to fear; it was their own fault if they went rushing into the market and paying 30 or 40 p. c. more than the land was worth (Hear, hear). At Mr Read's request he called on Mr Drake: but was Mr Read certain that Mr Drake was not in connection with the closers who had set up a land jobbing system? He certainly found them backing each other up through thick and thin (laughter). He had thought it necessary to write a few words in the Times about people being let in by those land sharks (Hear, hear). There was not time for him to tell them of all the flats who had been taken in through misrepresentations as to the character of the country (Hear, hear). In regard to English land, half the bad farming and half the evils they complained of rested with themselves. They ought to have better security for their capital, so as not to be obliged, during the last few years of a lease, to impoverish the land (cheers). The Law of Distress ought to be altered. He did not want to advocate any communistic scheme, but it was a shame that landlords sometimes would give 20 or 25 per cent to strangers, and nothing to their old tenants (Hear, hear). The farmers fixed the price of land, and their only fault was that they were paying too much for it (Hear, hear). It was all very well to sit and grumble! they could help themselves when they chose, and the sooner they did it the better (cheers).

Eight thousand sword-bayonets is the last cargo of arms that has arrived for the National Government.

EDITOR'S TABLE.

On Tuesday night General Osborne, U.S. Resident Minister, personally presented President Roca with an autograph letter from President Hayes, congratulating President Roca on his election, and expressing the most friendly sentiments towards this Republic. The American Minister, when delivering the letter, made a most eloquent speech, complimenting President Roca on the splendid development of this country at present going on, and assuring H.E. that the Government and the people of the United States took a deep interest in the peace, happiness and prosperity of Argentines. President Roca eloquently replied, assuring the American Minister that he would be unceasing in his efforts to forward the industries of the Republic, and to increase the prosperity and happiness of the Argentine people. He thanked President Hayes for his letter, and the American Minister for his kind and generous expressions towards this country. Dean Dillon acted as interpreter on the occasion. The affair came off at the President's private residence on the Flores Road, in the presence of many friends who happened to be visiting President and Madame Roca at the time, amongst others Dr. Ambrosio Lezica, Gonzalez Moreno, T. Alvear, Dr. and Mrs. Obligado, Mrs. and Miss Mallet, the Misses Lezica, Consul and Mrs. Baker, Dr. D. Alvear, C. Casares, Dr. E. Costa, Sr. de la Barra, Dean Dillon, Colonel Gramajo and several others.

The committee of the Princes' ball request us to say that the accounts are now completed, and parties desiring to inspect them can do so at the treasurer's office. No committee ever concluded its labours with a more unanimous vote of thanks.

To-day a gay wedding comes off at Luxan: Mr. Laurence Casey leads to the Hymeneal altar Miss U. Brown, daughter of Mr. John Brown, of Luxan, one of our wealthiest and most representative Irish estancieros. It will be one of the grandest affairs of the kind for some time in the camp, and many friends leave town this morning at 5 a.m., to the tune of 'Haste to the Wedding.'

Señorita Esmeralda Cervantes has issued invitations for a 'cup of tea' to-morrow evening, at the Hotel de la Paix, The eminent harpist's 'teas' are always delightful reunions, and a card for them is an enviable privilege.

General Sarmiento celebrated the 70th anniversary of his birth on Monday, and if hale appearance goes for anything, looks likely to do the even century. Of all the public men of this country General Sarmiento is the best known abroad, where he is looked on as by far the most vigorous and brilliant advocate of Law, Order and Progress that the Spanish American republics have yet produced. We trust the veteran statesman may yet be spared many years to his country, which has such good reason to be proud of him.

Whoever wants to buy the finest quinta in this fine land should pay Mr Sarsfield Brennan, 79 Calle Sarpacha, a visit. The quinta in question is at 'lovely Lomas', and belonged to the late well known photographer M. Loudet. A resident at Lomas assures us that the place is really a superb country seat, so wealthy 'cits' should look after it. Mr Brennan has carriage of the sale.

Anyone wishing to replenish his wine cellar has a good opportunity of doing so to-day at Messrs Day and Peake's sale. Connoisseurs will find some choice brands amongst the wines and brandies to be offered. All day yesterday Messrs Day and Peake's premises were thronged with visitors 'tasting' the wines to be sold to-day. There appeared to be a leonine run on the Tawny Port, and several connoisseurs got saturated with Dry Sherry, while those who went for the Four Star Cognac declared that it opened their mental vision to an extent they could scarcely believe. All agreed that the three liquors were unmistakably 'the right thing' and A 1 of their kind, so Mr Gowland is likely to have numerous bidders to-day.

A dreadful affair took place at Lujan on Tuesday morning through a child being allowed to handle matches. The little fellow, six years old, was throwing the lighted matches about, and one of them fell on a kerosene can: an explosion followed, and the little boy was enveloped in flames in a moment. A brave young fellow named Wilde rushed to the child's rescue, and, with the assistance of other neighbours, mastered the flames, but the boy was so badly burned that he died in an hour or two. Wilde was also much injured, but his life is not in danger.

The Rev James Smith will preach at the Cabaña, Cauuelas district, on Sunday week next, (Carnival Sunday)

A grand funeral Mass will be celebrated to-morrow in the church at Flores, for the late Dr Kelly.

Dr Del Viso, Minister of the Interior, is expected in town on Monday next on his return from Cordoba.

We are requested to state that Messrs Underwood, the well known upholsterers, have returned to their old premises No 113-115 Calle Alsina.

The Rev M. P. Ferguson will preach at the Estancia Esperanza [Mr H Robinson's] on Sunday next, 20th inst.

The heat yesterday was tempered by a nice breeze, and people in general looked much livelier. The dust in the suburbs is simply awful, and almost as bad in town. What about the promise made three months ago to water the principal streets this summer? Moonshine does not lay the dust.

The Chimese have now become such an utter abomination in the eyes of all patriotic Californians that to use the word 'Chinaman' is considered the worst of 'bad form'. Even in official State documents they are alluded to as 'persons ineligible to citizenship.'

The grand distribution of prizes to the pupils of Mr Adolfo Negrotto's school in Calle Tacuari will take place on the evening of Monday next, 21st, at 8 o'clock sharp. We have already alluded to the great value and artistic beauty of the gold and silver medals to be distributed on the occasion, for which a most distinguished company has been invited.

The Tribuna Nacional says that the architect who designed the addition to the Cabildo tower must have had a fit of delirium when he planned it. It is certainly a work 'sui generis', and we tremble at what Posterity is likely to say of the architect.

The Guillaume circus company will give four more performances prior to their departure for Montevideo.

The Calle Cuyo tragedy has ended in the recovery of both the wounded actors in it. According to their solemn declarations the husband, now in the Penitentiary, is a vulgar edition of a character mercilessly depicted by 'Ouida,' in her sensational novel, 'Friendship.'

We have used up a full box of the most expensive pens that Birmingham turns out in complaining of delays and other shortcomings of the General Post Office, and now we have another grievance of a very serious nature. The paste, glue, gum, or whatever adhesive mixture is put on the back of the one cent stamps is so execrably bad that, when it dries, the stamps fall off. This is a very serious matter for the public, and Mr Ojeda should 'blow up,' with anything short of dynamite or gun cotton, whoever makes them, in the U. States, or England.

According to the Montevidean papers, the bathing down there is faster and more furious than ever. On Sunday last, they say, 35,000 tickets for baths at the Pocitos were sold. This, we presume, is not meant to convey the impression that that number of people bathed on that day, but that they provided themselves with tickets for an indefinite future period, People at Montevideo appear to have gone bathing mad this year, and it is really a wonder that none of them have been drowned as yet.

It is said that the man who never smelt powder is the fellow who never held his nose close to a woman's cheek.

The President of the Municipality introduced a Carnival innovation yesterday in the shape of beautiful cards showing the route of the Corso and the several corners at which carriages can join or leave it. There is quite a new route this year: Down Calle Florida from Plaza Retiro to Piedad, up this street to Maipu into Rivadavia, up one side of this street to Plaza Lorea, and down same street to Peru into Victoria, up to Lorea on one side, down the other, and back again by Florida to Plaza Retiro. We would sooner go to Venado Tuerto and back twice, on one meal a-day, than make this Carnival round once, with the chance of having to pull with one eye the rest of our editorial days, owing to a squirt of vitriol from a pomito.

The well-known 'botica' at 83 Calle Florida is now under the management of Mr. Edward Kelly, a gentleman whose high abilities are a guarantee of the best and most skilful attention to all customers. The establishment is stocked with the very best English drugs, perfumes, sponges, brushes, and everything in the line.

The Argentine Geographical Institute is getting along so splendidly that it now counts 60 members, and, for the future, its very interesting Boletin will appear every fortnight. Whoever wishes to be well posted up topographically and physically about this country should subscribe to the Boletin—only $20 per month.

The meeting on the Bolsa to-day to decide as to the hour for its closing was most crowded and exciting, the question has given rise to great dispute when really it admits of no argument whatever; the whole Bolsa has thrown itself into the question, and the voting on the question has upset the ordinary business of afternoons, as people were busy canvassing votes pro and contra.

It was announced on 'Change that the Finance Minister, Sr Cortinez, received a telegram to-day from Mr Ruiz, former Government broker, who is in Paris, with an offer for the loan.

Respecting the City Improvement Works President Roca, we hear, has stated that the first party who offers and has the money will get the contract.

Circulars have arrived from London announcing the voluntary liquidation of the Mercantile Bank. It seems that the large shareholders and directors have decided on this course.

The new Santa Fe Argentine Land Company capital $200,000 has been launched in London with the greatest success. We want half a dozen such companies, and the people sent out to settle on, till and stock the lands, then such companies under economical management will pay splendidly.

Exchange was done at 49¾-49⅝ and 5.25-27; bills more offered.

It was rumoured on 'Change that a telegram from London had been received, giving very bad advices about the London auction, but we have not seen the telegram. Meanwhile we may note that for the last 3 days the price of wool in this market has ruled much harder, and the arrivals from the country are very small.

American pine is rapidly advancing. We heard of 11½ pats. offered for a cargo to-day and declined.

The new negro animal Company in Barracas belonging to Portales Freres is working hard and doing a large business, whilst others of older date we hear, are at a stand still.

We hear that the new Governor, Dr Rosch, intends to form colonies at each of our country towns.

Freights for the regular liners rule at 25s and 10 per cent, and salted hides 30 frcs and 10 p r cent, very few bales now offering. There are very few sailing vessels in port most of the captains having left in ballast. Some of the Italians have gone in ballast to North America; if the saladero killing in the rivers improves small vessels for salted hides will be scarce. Freights to-day nominal, 12s 6d, and 12½ frcs. for Havre.

It was announced on 'Change that certain parties in England interested in the Venado Tuerto estancia have telegraphed to Mr Casey to suspend the auction sale; we have no doubt this has been caused by the brilliantly successful launching of the Santa Fe Land Company in London. Mr Casey telegraphed back that the message had arrived too late, as the auction was fixed, and the sale could not be postponed without breaking faith with the public, many intending buyers having gone to the trouble of inspecting the land. This shows the interest now taken in England in River Plate estancia lands.

Several other pieces of land, we heard today on 'Change, have been rented for flax growing at still higher rents, 450 and even 500 m/n per annum per cuadra. We hope to be able to publish something about this great crop in a few days.

Advices from the Banda Oriental are most unfavorable about the locusts. Mr Alex. Fulton, who has arrived from Paysandu, says that last week a cloud of locusts came there remained for 3 hours and eat up everything in the place.

We have received an interesting paper from Scotland on the improved system of tanning, samples of which we have in our office; the matter appears to be of the very greatest importance to this country. We shall publish the paper to-morrow.

The attention of the Municipality is being called to the absurd regulations that allow a cart to load 3 pipes of wine, weighing 120 ar., whilst they prohibit a cart taking more than 2 bales of wool, weighing 65 ar., even 3 bales of wool would weigh less than 3 pipes of wine, and we hope to see the rule reformed.

The saladero killing in the Banda Oriental proceeds very slowly, and we hear the Liebig factory is far behind last year's figures. It seems there is plenty of fat cattle, but the estancieros ask too much. Some sales have been made at 16½ pats., but the saladeristas protest they cannot pay over 13 pats. gold.

Advices from Paris per Gironde respecting the new French River Plate Bank are said to be favorable. Mr Wehely has proved very successful, and will shortly return to commence operations.

Letters received from Europe complain of the Cordoba Government attempting to sell over the owners' heads estancias bought from the Govnt. of Buenos Ayres, paid for and stocked. When this affair was first mooted, we called attention to the great injury to the credit of the country such a question was calculated to cause. Many of our new lands belong to people living in Europe, but this unpardonable conduct of the Cordova Government will check foreign capital flowing into this country, and we look to the Federal Court to protect foreigner's rights and condemn the Cordovese Government.

Dr J F Lopez has just gained another very important lawsuit, establishing a precedent worthy of knowing the provinces have been in the habit of incurring debts or obligations and refusing to pay on the ground that they were not included in the 'presupuesto.' The province of Mendoza engaged Dr Lopez to defend a suit when he gained for them and when he sent in his bill, the Government stated that as it was not in the 'presupuesto' it could not be paid, but Dr Lopez sued the Government before the Federal Court and got judgment against the Government ordering it to at once pay the Doctor his fee and with costs. This decision will have the wholesome effect of teaching these Prov. Governments when they owe money it must be paid.

The mails from Brazil bring the following—

"The Correio Mercantil of Pelotas, Rio Grande do Sul, relates that the master of the British brigantine Sarah Ann, left that port on the 5th inst. without the usual police visit and after having insulted the police authorities. It is charged that he broke a contract with one of his seamen, whom he afterwards whipped. The seaman escaped and complained to the police. A police delegate called on him on the 6th, which, it is charged, the master treated the official in a very disrespectful manner, and finally threatened to depart without the usual police permit, which he afterwards did. Information was then given to the chief of police of the province, who at once obtained an order from the provincial President for the arrest of the vessel. The gunboat Araguary was dispatched from Rio Grande on the 11th to stop the Sarah Ann at the bar. The master, Capt. Johnson, afterwards reconsidered his conduct and wrote an apology to the Pelotas police authorities, after which the Araguary was recalled and the Sarah Ann was permitted to depart in peace."

"The report of the Commercial Association of Santos is bitter upon the miserable facilities for the discharge of vessels and on the bad management of the Custom House, the result of which has been the reduction of the former two calls a month of Royal Mail steamers to one, and of the four Lampert & Holt calls to one, besides the abandonment of the intended calls of the Bordeaux and Marseilles lines, the freights being sometimes swallowed up by the expenses caused by delays.

"As regards the coffee exports of 1880 the exceptionally good quality partly counteracted the effects of declining prices abroad and, cooperating with the bad quality of the Java crop, gave a great stimulus to the foreign estimate of the San Paulo coffee, establishing its reputation and causing it to be freely received in all the marts abroad under the name of 'Santos Coffee'."

MERCANTILE ARITHMETICAL PROBLEM.

B. Aires, Feb. 14th, 1881

To the Editor of the Standard,

Dear Sir,

The simplest way of solving such a problem as that proposed is, I think, by the rule of arithmetic styled 'position'. This consists in assuming any number to be the one sought, and performing on it the operations required by the proposition. Then say, as the result found is to the result given, so is the assumed number to that sought.

Proceeding thus with our problem, let us assume the first sale to be $f.10,000. Then the Porteño agent retains 5 o/o commission and the B. M. (British Merchant) is due $f.9,500. This sum then is to be invested in wool and 3 o/o allowed. Either the P. A. (Porteño Agent) invests it all and draws on the B. M. for his commission, or as is the most probable, and I think the correct way, he will calculate his commission of 3 o/o before hand. Therefore instead of 3 o/o on $f.9,500, which some of your correspondents have assumed, he will have 3 o/o on $f.9,500 : $f.103 = $f.9,223.30 : 103 = $f.89.58. Commission 3 o/o = $f.91.31. Sum of commissions 500 plus 276.70 plus 91.3 = $f.868.02. Then 868.02 : 1,052.68 :: 10,000 : x Result $f.12,126 22, which I hold to be the correct answer.

I am, Sir,

Your "Ingenious Subscriber", who proposed the problem.

If the original amount were as your "ingenious Nonsubscriber" so confidently asserts, $f.12,000, the commissions accruing therefrom would be $f.1,011 64 as follows—

First amount	$f.12,000
Commission 5 o/o	600
	$f.11,400
Invested in wool $f.11,287.96
Commission 3 o/o	332.04
	11,400
Net proceeds of wool realised at purchasing price $f.10,938.38
Com. 1 o/o	109.58
	11,047.96

Your correspondent overcharges 3 o/o on 3 and 1 o/o on.

X

PREPARE 100 AS FOLLOWS

100 less 5 o/o = 95 multiplied by 100 and divided by 102 = 92.233 which multiplied by 100 and divided by 101 = 91.3168 which subdivided from 100 = 3.6802 with which $f.1,052 68 the total amount of commission ought to be divided giving as answer $f.12,126.22.

J. D.

The employment of the following method results in an answer of $f.12,000, which I feel convinced would baffle the ingenuity of your "ingenious Nonsubscriber" to prove to be correct.

100 less 5 o/o = 95 less 3 o/o = 92.15 less 1 o/o = 91.2285 which taken from 100 = 3.7715 with which $f.1,052.68, the total amount of commission, is divided, giving as answer $f.12,000

MR. PARNELL'S ESTATE.

From a correspondent who has recently visited the estate of the leader of the land agitation, we have some interesting particulars concerning Mr Parnell's property, which is situated at Avondale, in the heart of Wicklow. It consists of four thousand six hundred and seventy-eight statute acres, valued in the Government returns for 1873 at £1,245 annually. The owner of Avondale House is a magistrate for the county of Wicklow, and here for upwards of a hundred years the Parnell family have resided, the present mansion having been built in 1779. The charms of Wicklow have been often described both in prose and verse. The traveller from Dublin, when he enters this picturesque county, is struck with the sylvan beauty of the scenery. Lovely patches of wooded country alternate with brown crags and sparkling rivulets. The foliage of the trees, with its varied and vivid colours, makes a superb picture when contrasted with the sombre shades of the moorland in the background, and, amid all, the delicate tracery of the leaves of the silver fir, which abounds here, soften the scene by, as it were, enfolding it in a net of lacework. Mr Parnell's estate is in the midst of such a country. It is bounded on the north by the Avonmore river, and on the south by the Avonbeg, and extends to where these waters—immortalised by Moore—meet in the vale of Avoca. There are about thirty tenants on the Avondale estate, with holdings varying in extent from four acres upwards. Mr Parnell besides has erected a saw-mill and turnery on his property, and for years past he has been making borings for lead, and in his latest attempt he has succeeded in striking the lode. The saw-mill from its foundation to the erection of the machinery was constructed from the plans and under the direct supervision of Mr Parnell himself. The motive power is a turbine wheel, turned by a water-race from the Avonmore, and equal to 50-horse power. The men and youths at work were, a few years ago, ordinary farm labourers. They all seem exceedingly active and skilful; their industry is stimulated by a rate of wages increasing by a certain amount each year, with piece-work rates in very busy times. Several of the lads were engaged in turning and painting brush heads, while the elders were sawing up the trees sent in by the wood ranger, and cutting them into appropriate lengths. The same wheel that works the machinery of the mill is attached by a wire rope of considerable length to the pump of the mine-shaft, which is sunk within a few yards of the banks of the Avonmore. From its vicinity to the river, as well as from lying at the foot of a hill, the boring is exceedingly wet. Mr Parnell is sanguine that the recently-discovered lode will become a commercial success. He has expended a large sum of money on these mining investigations, but hitherto he has met with no pecuniary reward. Turning away from this busy scene in the centre of profound calm—the wood extending silently up the slopes on the right hand, and the bright Avonmore rushing swiftly along on the left—(the correspondent says) I visited tenants at eight different parts of the Parnell estate. Of these I found that two owed over three years' rent and two over one year. One possessed a lease for ever, two held leases for 200 years each, and three leases for 31 years each. In one or two instances the rents were above the Government valuation, but they were mostly below it. Every tenant, in addition, has been receiving a reduction of 20 per cent of the rent for some time past, and the tenants informed me that since the death of Mr Parnell's father, in 1858, the rents have, in several cases, been permanently reduced. The Avonmore property is in settlement. New leases can be granted only for 31 years, and no 'fine' can be taken on their renewal. I now proceed to give a few typical tenants holding under Mr Parnell. Patrick Moore has 16 acres, at a rent of £28 5s annually, with 20 per cent reduction, the Government valuation being £20. This man spoke in high terms of Mr Parnell as a landlord. John Warren told me he held four acres which he used for grazing; he purchased for £170 the lease for ever of his plot, which contained two cottages. Warren subsequently built a third house, at a cost of £400, besides making improvements in the way of ditching and banking. Mr Warren had a good many complaints to make with respect to Mr Parnell. He said he had never seen him, or, at least, for a long time. He had made a hundred complaints to the woodranger about a rotten tree that he feared would fall on a little outhouse he had built, and no attention had been vouchsafed him. He thought the land was high rented—£12 10s. for about four acres; but it is now below the Government valuation, which is £14, and, besides, contains the two cottages mentioned, which let for £9 2s. yearly, and the larger of the two is divided into se parate tenements. Mr Warren is anxious to sell his new interest for £500, and I was told that Mr Parnell thinks of purchasing the plot for the purpose of erecting an hotel on it to accommodate visitors of Wicklow scenery. Two other of the agitator's tenants were Mrs and John Carroll, related to each other by marriage. They hold leases for 31 years, one for 25 acres of arable land, the other for 35 acres. No rent has been paid for three years, but this, I understand, has been in consequence of the improvidence of certain members of the families. Mrs Carroll holds the smaller farm at 30s. an acre. She has no milch cow nor a horse, and in answer to an inquiry of mine, said she saw no prospect of paying any rent for a long time. Her husband, when alive had got into debt with the shopkeeper and he was being paid off. This woman's children were dirty and unhealthy looking. Everything about the place was in keeping. Outhouses thatchless and crumbling in ruin, mud and manure in mingled offensiveness lying outside the door; and not a penny of rent paid for three years from a combined farm of 60 acres of the best land in Ireland, let at 30s. an acre, with a reduction of 20 p. cent. Peter Burn another tenant, holds 50 Irish acres under a lease for 200 years, at 10s. an acre, the Government valuation being 20s. an acre. This man seems very prosperous. He is an intelligent and active farmer, and at present is engaged in building a substantial new stone house for himself. Although holding a lease, he has promised to pay Mr Parnell the Government valuation for the farm. Lawrence M'Grath holds under a similar lease, and on the same conditions. John Kavanagh has 80 acres at a rent of 30s. an acre, the Government valuation being 25s. This man has taken another farm from a neighbouring landlord, Mr Littledale. He owes Mr Parnell a year's rent, but he has paid Mr Littledale, with whom he is very much dissatisfied. There are a few laborers' cottages on the Parnell estate let at a shilling weekly. The one I visited was so enshrouded in trees that it was exceedingly damp. There was, as is so frequently found in Irish cottages, an aged relative in keeping. She was an old lady of about eighty years, quite erect in her figure, quick, and courteous. She complained very much of being affected with rheumatism.
